Section 1: Sprint.

Do not get comfortable. Finish as fast as possible without losing accuracy.

Section 2: Steady Pace.

Section 3: Deep Focus.

You have bought yourself the time required for the hardest text.

Buffer Zone: Return to skipped questions across any section.

TIMESTAMP: 2024.05.21_14:59:08

SKIP THE PASSAGE. HUNT THE 40%.

Advanced readers can skim a passage in 3 minutes.
If you are short on time, do not read the passage first.

Not every paragraph contains an answer.

60% of the text is pure context.

TIMESTAMP: 2024.05.21_15:02:34

ACTION RULE: Read the question, highlight the keyword, and scan the text to locate the targeted 40%. Ignore the rest.

THE MASTER RULE OF SEQUENCE

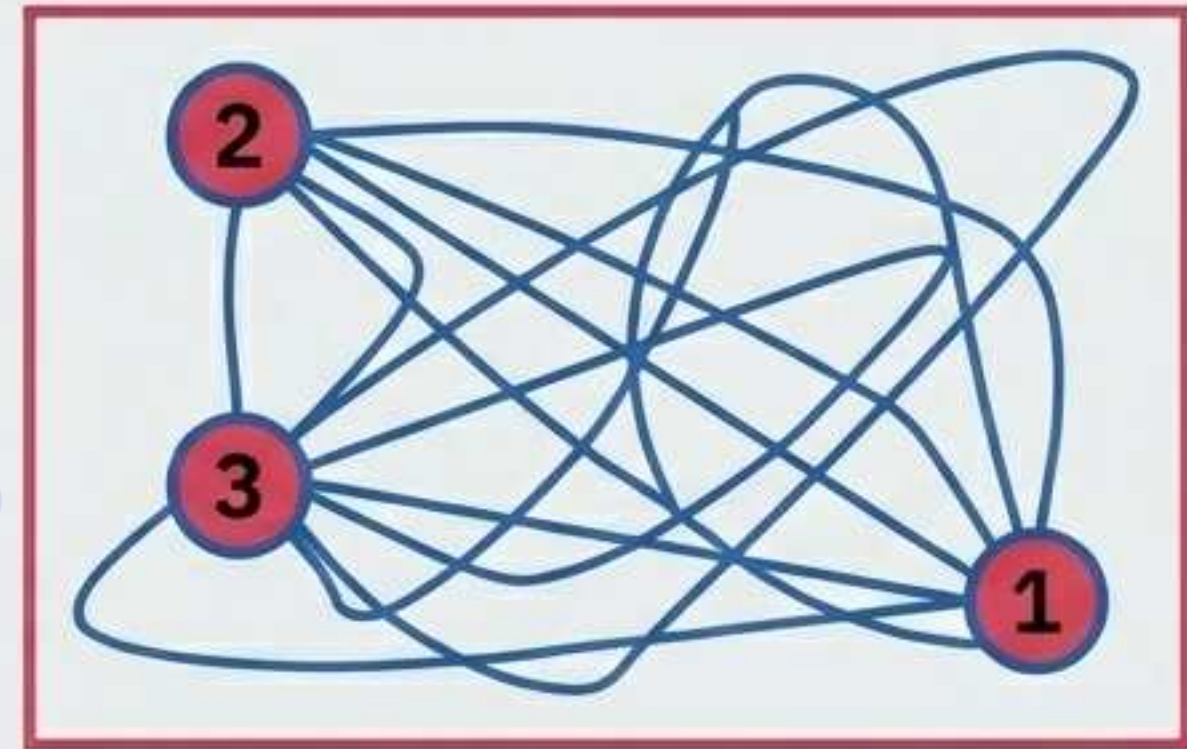

IN-ORDER PATHWAY

TIMESTAMP: 2024.05.21_15:03:45

In-Order: Answers appear sequentially in the text. Read Question 1, scan text, find answer. Read Question 2, continue scanning down from where you left off.

OUT-OF-ORDER PATHWAY

TIMESTAMP: 2024.05.21_15:03:45

Out-of-Order: Answers are scattered. Requires scanning the text holistically or matching multiple sections at once.

THE QUESTION SORTING MATRIX

IN-ORDER / PREDICTABLE

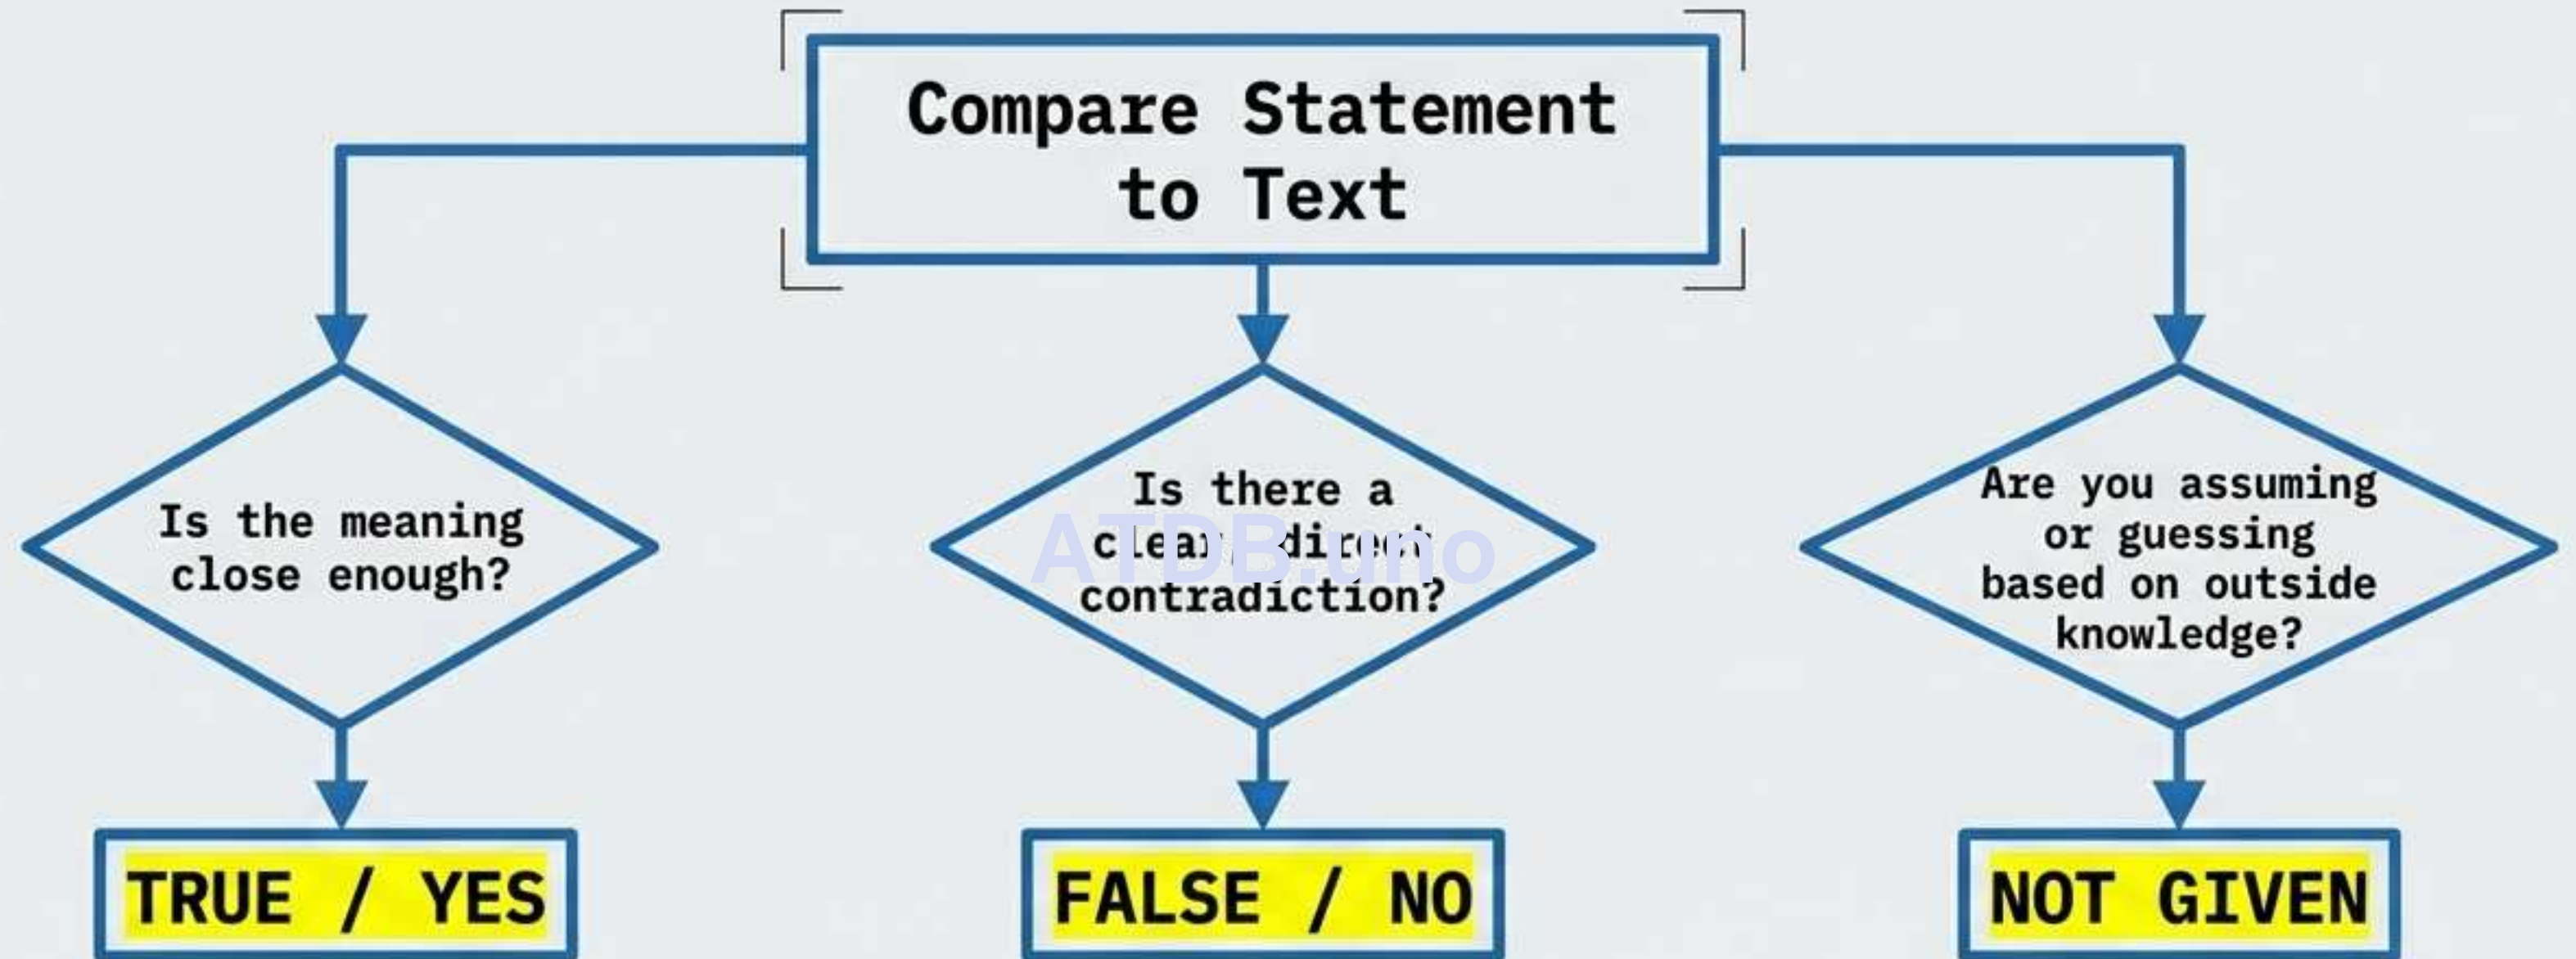

- True / False / Not Given
- Yes / No / Not Given
- Multiple Choice (1 Answer)
- Matching Sentence Endings
- Missing Words / Gap Fills (Usually)

OUT-OF-ORDER / SCATTERED

- Matching Headings
- Matching Information
- Matching Features
- Danger Zone: Questions 38, 39, 40 (Final test questions frequently break sequence rules).

TRUE / FALSE / NOT GIVEN LOGIC TREE

T/F/NG tests Facts.
Y/N/NG tests the Author's Opinion.

Rule: Don't overthink. If you have to debate the nuance for more than 30 seconds, it's likely Not Given.

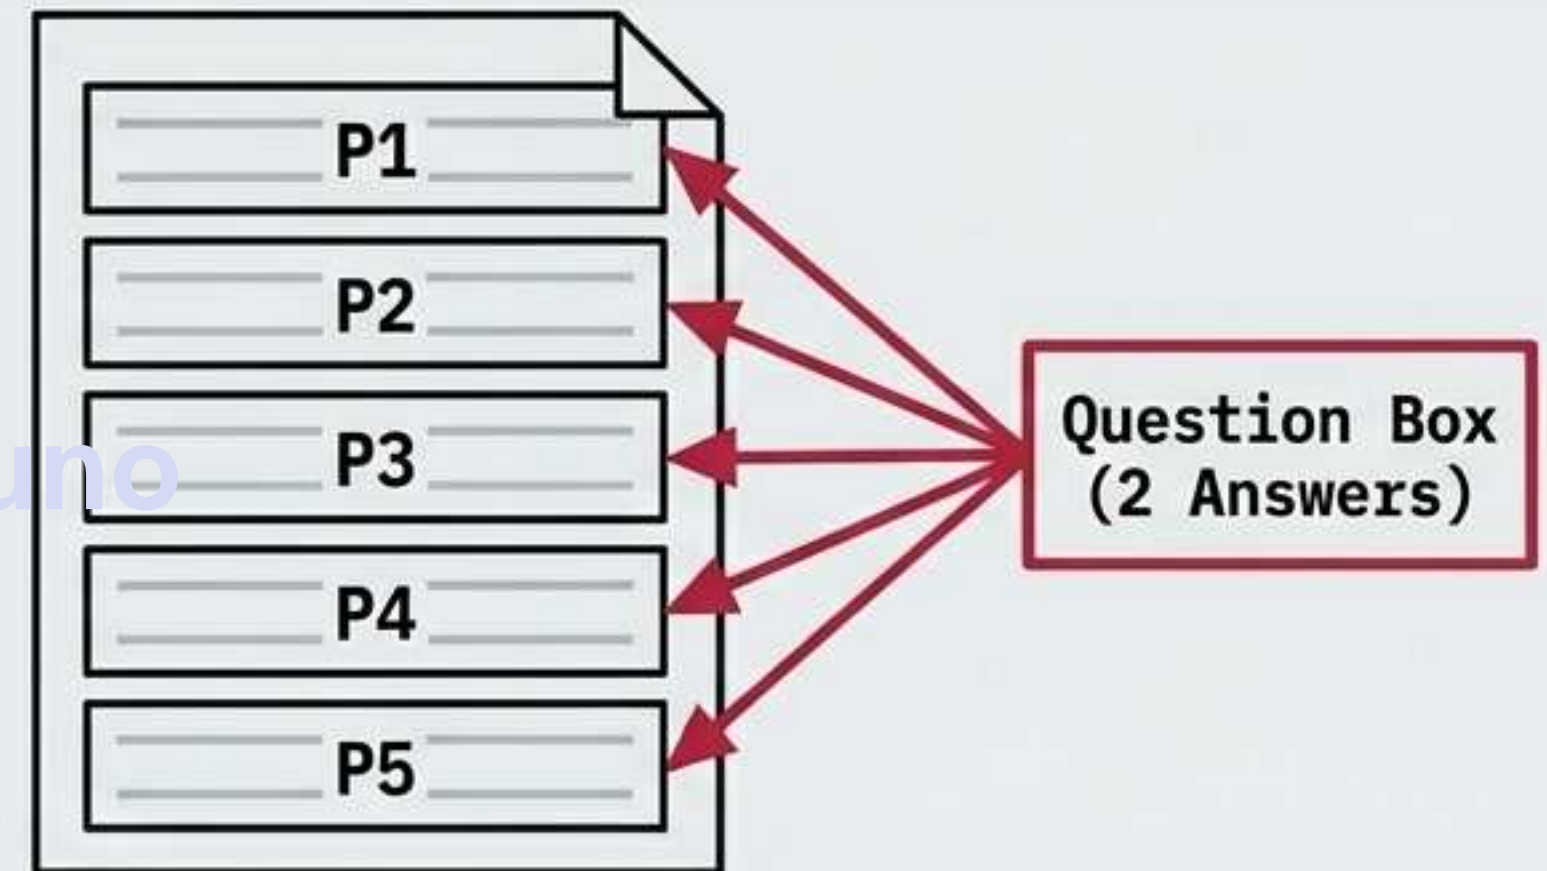

MULTIPLE CHOICE SPATIAL TACTICS

1-ANSWER QUESTIONS (PREDICTABLE)

Follows the Order Rule. Use physical text location to trap the answer.

2-ANSWER QUESTIONS (THE TIME SINK)

Options are scattered across multiple paragraphs. If you are behind schedule, skip these and return to them in your final 7-minute buffer.

HUNTING DETAILS: MATCHING INFORMATION

RULE ZERO: YOU ARE HUNTING FOR SPECIFIC DETAILS, NOT MAIN IDEAS.

1. CHECK INSTRUCTIONS

Look for "You may use any letter more than once." If present, one paragraph contains two answers.

2. HIGHLIGHT MEANING

Highlight meaning keywords in the statements, not exact words.

Prepare for aggressive synonyms.

3. LINEAR SCAN

Read Passage Section A. Check against all statements. Repeat for Section B. If an answer is missing, keep moving. Do not go back and forth.

THE REVERSE ENGINEERING HACK FOR MATCHING FEATURES

Mechanism: Do NOT read the question statements first. They are out of order and will confuse you.

Step 1:

Look at the Box of Options (e.g., list of scientists or dates).

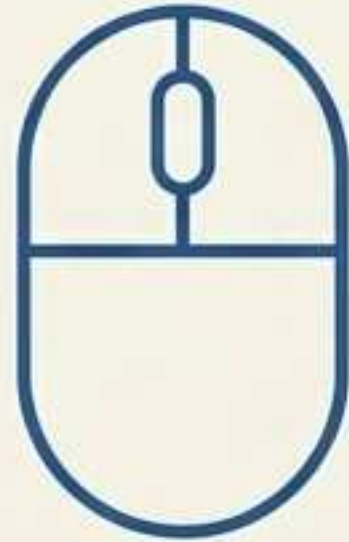

Step 2:

Scan the entire text exclusively for those specific capitalized names or numbers. Highlight them.

Step 3:

Only when you find a name, slow down, read its size, read the context around it, and match it back to the question statement.

TEST ENVIRONMENT EXECUTION MECHANICS

COMPUTER-BASED INTERFACE

Master the Right-Click. Highlight keywords (names, theories, dates) relentlessly. Your screen should look like a heatmap.

PAPER-BASED INTERFACE

Underline aggressively.

⚠ CRITICAL RULE: Transfer your answers to the official answer sheet after each section. Never wait until minute 59 to transfer 40 answers.

THE 10-DAY DAILY TRAINING LOOP

4. SYNONYM REVIEW

When reviewing wrong answers, map the keyword in the question to the synonym in the text. Build your paraphrase database.

1. AUTHENTICITY

Only use official Cambridge past papers. Third-party tests break the logic rules.

3. THE PRE-SORT

Before reading a single word of a test, classify every question as In-Order or Out-Of-Order.

2. THE 12-MINUTE DRILL

Set a hard timer for 12 minutes for Section 1. Force the sprint habit.

TIMESTAMP: 2024.05.21_15:10:00

DIRECTIVE: DAILY_TRAINING_LOOP_PROTOCOL

THE TEST IS A MACHINE. YOU HAVE THE BLUEPRINT.

You don't need a year of language classes to score Band 9. You need discipline, the 12-18-23 timer, and the Order Rule.
